

GEORGE C. WILLIAMS

May 5, 2005

Col. Christopher A. Knight
Director Florida Highway Patrol
Dept. of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles
Tallahassee, FL 32399-0500

Dear Col. Knight,

Over the past several years, I have written to you about Florida Highway Patrol personnel who have assisted me in my training with the F.H.P.A. All of them are highly trained troopers who are a credit to the patrol.

At this time, I wish to tell you about another outstanding trooper. He is Sean P. Holliday, who just transferred from Troop "C", Lakeland to Jacksonville, Troop "G".

For the past several months, I rode many times with Trooper Holliday. He is without a doubt, one of the most professional dedicated troopers I have had the pleasure to know.

He knew I wanted to advance in the F.H.P.A. as far as possible. My goal to do L.S.P. and more. Trooper Holliday saw to it that I learned and completed trooper tasks. I just completed F.T.O. training in Orlando and would have thought he had attended the training. He is a trooper who shows pride in everything he does. He puts the patrol first and expects the best from others. We developed a great partnership and became good friends.

I have dealt with many police officers in my twenty-seven years as a police officer and worked with many outstanding officers and troopers, but I have never met a better man who I would put my life on the line with. I sincerely hope that he advances with the F.H.P. and is recognized for his dedication to such an outstanding department.

He is the type of person who makes me very proud to be a member of the Florida Highway Patrol Auxiliary.

Respectfully submitted,

George C. Williams
George C. Williams
Auxiliary Trooper. ID 8348
Troop "C", Lakeland

